

LEARNING SPACE DESIGN LAB™

Learning Space Design Lab™ is our most powerful workshop, leaving participants with a new understanding of how pedagogy and spaces are linked as well as concrete steps to further support learning, inclusion and well-being.

Our design lab is intended for schools & teams wishing to push their pedagogical thinking and shared practice while increasing their understanding of how spaces can actively nudge and support the learning culture they aim for.

USE LEARNING SPACE DESIGN LAB™ FOR

- Developing your learning culture
- Co-creating design briefs for remodeling or new-built school projects
- Re-imagining your learning spaces, unfolding the hidden potential of your school
- Getting your team on to the same page in terms of what teaching and learning should look like in your school
- Adding a strong student-voice to your future steps

HOW IT WORKS

A Learning Space Design Lab typically takes 2-4 hours. The focus can be school spaces in general or target specific areas in your school.

The Design Lab mirrors a well-designed learning process which is the secret behind the high impact: The participants identify challenges & goals, they get new inspiration, they explore, they meet constraints, they imagine and create, they work hands-on, they prototype, they discuss, they play, they present, they get feedback - and through it all they collaborate. It fast-tracks inspired futures with real ownership.

Always happy to hear from you!

Our Learning Space Design Lab™ has three times been selected among the Top 100 Most Inspiring Innovations in Education by Finnish HundrED.org.

Autens and Autens Pasifika are passion-driven education consultancies, thinking locally and working globally out of our hubs in Denmark and New Zealand.

We co-create dreams, visions, school concepts & learning space design inspired by research, experience & our common future on our little planet.

We believe learning should be joyful, playful, sticky, deep, hands-on, real, purposeful, collaborative & personal. Every learner has amazing potential!

Our mission is to enable every child to live a life worth dreaming of.

We are known and recognised for our inspiring, user-centric approaches.

We have helped a large number of schools, local governments and education organisations shape visions, policies, strategies, designs and professional development programmes to build capacity for the future. We have been part of building schools for a net worth of more than 1.2 billion AUD.
